PREFACE.

THE attempt has been made in the following pages to bring the genealogical record of the Whiting family of Dedham sufficiently near the present time to enable the descendants now living to connect their own families with the immigrant ancestor. The "Register Plan" has been adopted, not only because in the compiler's opinion it is the best method of arrangement for publication, but on account of its more general use in the best work of the present time.

The information herein contained has been personally gleaned from the public records and the usual sources of genealogical information, with the idea of making an especial feature of the abstracts of wills, deeds, etc. Reference by volume and page to the records in the various county registries is given in each case, as well as frequent cross references to published genealogies of allied families.

The matter of English ancestry has not been considered in the present volume, for the all-sufficient reason that nothing has been definitely proved.

The compiler heartily expresses his thanks to all who have aided and encouraged him in the work.

BOSTON, April 9, 1902.

NATHANIEL WHITING.

OUR ancestor is first mentioned in this country in the Salem Quarterly Court files, in the return made by the Proprietors' Clerk of the number of acres belonging to each of the landholders at Lynn in 1638; "Nathaniell Whiteinge 10." In Lewis' History of Lynn the name appears as "Whiteridge," but the correct spelling has been given by later writers.

He is next mentioned on the records of the First Church at Dedham: — "Nathaniell Whiting was admitted into y^e^ Church 30^th^ 5m^o^ 1641." He was granted the privileges of a freeman May 18, 1642.

He was by occupation a miller, and the first to operate a corn mill in Dedham.

One of the most important duties of the early colonists was to secure facilities for grinding their corn. Thus, in Dedham, on Feb. 21, 1736–7, at their eighth meeting, the townsmen voted to grant liberty to Abraham Shaw to erect a "Corne-mill"; a month later a grant of sixty acres was made "to belong vnto y^e^ sayd Mill soe erected provided allwayes y^t^ the same be a Water Mill, els not." Shaw's death, late in 1638, delayed matters for a while. On March 25, 1639, it was Ordered y^t^ a Ditch shalbe made at a Comon Charge through purchased medowe unto y^e^ East brooke. y^t^ may both be a pticon fence in y^e^ same: as also may serue for a Course vnto a water mill: y^t^ it shalbe fownd fitting to set a mill vpon y^e^ sayd brooke by y^e^ Judgem^t^ of a workeman for y^t^ purpose.

By this ingenious method a portion of the water of Charles river was diverted into Neponset river, and a sufficient supply and fall of water obtained. On the same day it was Ordered y^t^ yf any man or men will vnd^r^take & erect a water Cornemill shall haue given unto him soe much grownd as was form^r^ly granted vnto Abraham Shawe for y^t^ same end & purpose w^th^ such other benefitts and privelidges as he shold haue had in all Respects accordingly. provided y^t^ y^e^ sayd Mill doth grinde Corne before y^e^ First of y^e^ tenth month as it is Jntended.

The records do not give us the date of completion of the dam and mill, but a committee was appointed on July 14, 1641, to lay out "a cartway to our watermill."

A grant of eight acres was made to John Elderkin and Nathaniel Whiting jointly on the south side of the millpond for a house lot. There is no date to this grant, but the next entries are: —

John Elderkin alienateth & Selleth to Nathaniell Whiteing & his assignes forever his part in the land granted for a house Lot to the mill with the house and buildings thereon & the part of the Damm & ditchings belonging to halfe the mill as appeares by a deed dated the 22 of the 9 month 1642.

John Elderkin alienateth and selleth to Mr. Jn^o^. Allin pastor & Nathan Aldus and John Dwight and to their assignes for ever all his rights & interest in the Water Mill standing upon the East Brooke in Dedham w^th^ the Mill house dams & works thereunto belonging viz: the one halfe of the sd premises and Twenty acres of upland yet to be layd out and Ten acres of Meadow not yet layd out all which sd premises are alienated as followeth: viz: the one halfe to M^r^ Jn^o^ Allin one fourth part to Nathan Aldus the other fourth part to John Dwight.

By the following deed, recorded in the Suffolk Co. Registry, iv: 285, Nathaniel Whiting completed his title to the mill: —

John Elderkin had also been a proprietor of Lynn in 1638, and had built the mill there. After leaving Dedham he built the mill in Reading, then removed to Providence, and in 1651, went to New Haven, where be built both the first church and mill. He finally, in 1664, settled in Norwich, Conn.

The mill privilege was retained in the hands of the Whiting Family until 1823, when the heirs of Hezekiah[5] Whiting sold it to Jabez Chickering.

The printed records of the Town of Dedham contain many entries concerning Nathaniel Whiting, the mill, his tax-rates for town, county and school purposes, his grants of land and public services.

On Jan. 15, 1682–3, the very day of his death, the town empowered the selectmen to make the following agreement with Nathaniel Whiting and James Draper, Sen'r. (Printed Records of Dedham, v : 140.)

26—1—1683 Granted to Nathanell Whiting and to James Draper Sen^r and to their Heirs Liberty to Erect a fulling mill vpon the streem below the corn mills for the vse of this Town. He died at Dedham, 15 : 11m°, 1682. His age is not given on the record, but he must have been at least sixty-two, as none were admitted freemen until twenty-one years of age. He was more likely of age in 1638, when he received the land grant at Lynn, and probably born about 1617, making him twenty-six when married and sixty-five or sixty-six at death.

The originals of his will and inventory are missing from the files, and the following copies are taken from Suffolk Probate Records, vi : 408, and ix : 117.

POSTSCRIPT.

SINCE the preceding pages were printed, the discovery of the following Deposition requires a revision of the statements made on page 9 regarding our ancestor's age. It was found in the Middlesex County Court files for the year 1672, in the package marked "11" in pencil:

The Deposition of Nathaniell Whiteing aged about 63· and of John Bacon aged about 44· in refference to an account of what was founde about Zacharie Smyth after his death he being slayne by an Indian we being p^r^sent at the Search· and buriall of the Said Zachary did See found about him 20^s^ or upwards in money and besides the Cloathes he was buried in ther was a short stuffe Coat. and Some other Smale things of his brought to Dedham all which wer delivered to a man who said he was brother to the said Zachary that was killed.

Taken upon oath 20: 7: 72.
Before me Elea: Lusher: Assist^t^

Thus we learn from his own testimony that Nathaniel[1] Whiting was born about the year 1609, instead of 1617. He was therefore about twenty-nine years of age when he came to this country, thirty-four when married, sixty-three or sixty-four when his fourteenth and youngest child was born, seventy-three or seventy-four at death, and about sixteen years older than his wife.

It is hoped that this hitherto unpublished fact may assist in the search for proof of his English ancestry.
